Rev. Brough Preaches On Closing of Bars

On Sunday evening last the Rev. L. E. Brough preached a funeral sermon, commemorating the deaths of the liquor traffic in Alberta. The preacher took for his text, Isa. 28: 1-3, in which the prophet gives a graphic description of the blighting consequences of strong drink. The speaker, after showing the contrast in methods of attack on strong drink between the reformer of the past and present, gave some startling facts indicating the popular sentiment against the liquor traffic. There never was a time when the existence of the people was so strident against the drink traffic as it is today. Referring to the victory that brought the liquor traffic to a crash defeat a year ago in our province, the speaker declared in a triumphant tone that the people of Alberta have banished the liquor traffic from the old world. "Woman and she would bury the Devil if she got a chance; viz., with face downward, so that the more he scratched the deeper he went. The whiskey interests of our province have been smothered under the overwhelming landslide of public opinion."

After pointing out how industrial corporations are placing the ban on the run traffic as a barrier to commercial advance, the speaker went on to say that up to the present the temperance forces have been pursuing a policy of destruction, but hereafter we should give ourselves to a policy of construction. Having torn down the liquor interest, it is our duty and responsibility to build up conditions that will guarantee safety from the traffic in the days that lie ahead. As an illustration the speaker pointed out that it was not enough for the allies to crush German militarism, but to defeat it that it will never rise again as a menace to world-wide peace. So it is not enough to get rid of the liquor traffic. We must create conditions that will make it impossible for it to appear again. The sentiment that defeated the traffic in Alberta must be directed toward the support of law and order. The citizens must assist in maintaining a strict observance and enforcement of the law. We must also give our generous patronage and good will to the law-abiding temperance industries that come into existence to accommodate the travelling public. Something should be done to make provision for the needs of the men who used to follow the liquor houses. The preacher declared that a social center should be instituted in all the towns where homeless men and strangers may gather to have a social evening. The preacher closed by saying vigorous campaign of education along temperance lines should be sustained so as to keep its prohibition sentiment strong in the province.

British Start Terrific offensive

Smash Through Twenty Miles of German Trenches

London, July 1.—After weeks of intense bombardments with guns of every calibre firing a million shells daily, the British early this morning launched a general offensive against the German line along a front of twenty miles, north of the river Somme. They succeeded in taking the German front line trenches and capturing many men.

The French on the British right co-operated in the attack. When the first detachments thus far received left British headquarters the fighting was still progressing and further successes, it was said, were being recorded.

DECIDED ON WEEKS AGO

The front selected for the British offensive was decided upon many weeks ago, and the bombardment of the rest of the line as well as the frequent raids which preceded the British headquarters' important information as to the disposition of the Germans, was designed to keep the German generals uncertain as to the point at which the British guns began to speak. Since then, except for the hours when British infantrymen were raiding German trenches, a continuous bombardment has been maintained.

Batteries which now are innumerable turn to smashing the German defenses. The British guns began to speak. Since then, except for the hours when British infantrymen were raiding German trenches, a continuous bombardment has been maintained.

Offensive well advertised. This is the first time since the outbreak of the war that the intention of an army to undertake an offensive has been so well advertised. A week ago when the German attacks against Verdun began to take a new turn, the British guns began to speak. Since then, except for the hours when British infantrymen were raiding German trenches, a continuous bombardment has been maintained.

The artillery fire was particularly intense on the night of the 28th and earlier dispatches told of the destruction of the towns of Thiepval and Beaumont, where the Germans had concentrated ammunition. Early this morning more guns were brought into action on this twenty mile sector, and for an hour and a half the Germans were subjected to a bombardment which is described as the fiercest experienced in this war of heavy artillery.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM IN LONDON. The news of the British offensive, which was quickly circulated in London, created the greatest enthusiasm in maintaining a strict observance and enforcement of the law. We must also give our generous patronage and good will to the law-abiding temperance industries that come into existence to accommodate the travelling public.

The news spread like wildfire. There was a terrific rush to obtain special editions of the evening newspapers. Along the Strand and elsewhere there was a turmoil of excitement. From the terraces of the theatres, the specially soldiers, cheered the tidings which had been awaited so eagerly. Men and women in little groups scanned the special editions, then broke out in cheers of joy.

INFANTRY SPRINGS FROM TRENCHES AT GIVEN SIGNAL. British Headquarters in France, July 1.—(12.35 p.m.)—A tremendous British offensive was launched at 7.30 this morning over a front extending twenty miles, north of the Somme. The assault was preceded by a terrific bombardment, and the British troops already have occupied the German front line and have captured many prisoners.

The terrific bombardment which preceded the attack lasted about two hours and a half. It is too early to say to what the latest part of the offensive of the fighting, which is developing in intensity. The British casualties have so far been comparatively light, according to official reports.

The artillery bombardment of the last few days was concentrated this morning with a degree of fury and a number of guns which were positioned in the region of Albert and the Somme, with the French co-operating to the south.

At 7.30 o'clock thick clouds of smoke and dust which hung over the whole field as far as the eye could see, the infantry sprang from the trenches and rushed forward in a series of twenty miles. Already it has gained possession of the first line trenches and the advance is continuing.

The new British attack, which fired forty-five shots a minute, played a great part, cutting wire entanglements and destroying trenches. Large numbers of prisoners have been taken.

Some of the prisoners say the British certain of fire prevented them from getting food for the last five days. A British staff officer who witnessed the advance at the junction of the French and British lines said the attack was launched as though the men were on parade.

Simultaneously with the launching of the British offensive French infantry advanced to the attack. This movement of French was inaugurated over a section of the French line adjoining the junction point with the British front.

ANGLO-FRENCH OFFENSIVE MAKES STEADY GAINS ALL ALONG THE LINE. London, July 3.—To-day's news is again a tale of the continued progress of the Anglo-French offensive. Heavy fighting is proceeding all along the line. The British maintain all their positions south of the Ancre river, where the battle still rages. They have captured La Boisselle, the position of which is crucial, and are fighting successfully around Ovillers and north of Ypres.

The British people learned for the first time to-night that the famous French general, French who has now been a staid figure during the course of the war, is directing the operations south of the Somme river. This has given increased confidence in the result of the allied offensive.

PROCLAMATION

Civic Half Holiday

In response to a largely signed petition of business men asking for a half holiday during the Fair, I hereby proclaim Friday afternoon, July 7th, from 12 o'clock to 6 o'clock, a public half holiday.

(Signed) J. A. CARSWELL, Mayor.

Sir Robert Borden's Dominion Day Message

Ottawa, July 1.—Sir Robert Borden, the prime minister, to-night issued the following Dominion Day message to the people of Canada:

"The 9th anniversary of our confederation finds Canada, in common with all the Empire, still inspired with an unflinching determination to do her part in maintaining our cause to triumph issue. The long list of casualties brings its message of sorrow to many Canadian homes; but it brings also a proud memory of the conspicuous valor and endurance of our Canadian troops who have proven themselves worthy of the highest respect and admiration."

"During my recent visit to the United States I found the warm admiration of the great part which Canada has taken in this war and an intense appreciation of the record which Canadians have established in the fighting line."

"As we approach the conclusion of our second year of war, the tidings from all the battlefields of the vast theatres in which the allied armies meet the enemy are most encouraging. The Council was a federation of women's societies, was broad in its scope, and carried on literature, education, public health, pure food, household economies, etc., and since the war, patriotic work. These departments were taken up by the Local Councils at their discretion and according to the needs of the locality."

The Local Councils afforded a means by which the opinions of the women could be easily and quickly obtained on important questions. Each Local Council had the same number of votes in the National Council. Red Deer would have as many votes as Toronto, Montreal, and the Law Councils of the Province. Big Wholesale Warehouse For Red Deer

Campbell, Wilson & Horne to Build This Summer

Citizens of Red Deer will be glad to learn that the big wholesale grocery firm of Campbell, Wilson & Horne, have decided to build a large warehouse this summer on the corner, just north of their present business premises, and property has been secured from A. T. Stephenson for this purpose.

This is one of the best sites in the city for a wholesale establishment and this well-known and enterprising firm about their wisdom and foresight in selecting it.

It is rumored that the building will cost in the neighborhood of twenty thousand dollars, and it is possible that a large cold storage plant may be erected in connection with it.

There is nothing that will add more to the city's interests than making the city a wholesale center and this decision on the part of Campbell, Wilson and Horne will give general satisfaction as showing that Red Deer can go ahead even during these strenuous times.

At a special meeting of the city council on Friday last with the Mayor presiding and Aldermen Smith, Lord, Galbraith, Collinson and Johns present, by-law No. 430 was passed unanimously, authorizing the Mayor and Secretary-Treasurer to sign treasury notes with the extent of $50,000, repayable in two, three and four years, against the arrears of taxes.

Repayment to be made $10,000 in two years, $15,000 in three years and $15,000 in four years. Interest payable half yearly.

THE LADIES' COLLEGE. The following motion was presented to the meeting and carried unanimously:

Moved by Ald. Collinson, seconded by Mr. Ross, that the Alberta Ladies' College of Red Deer, having sold their property to the Provincial Government for another purpose are seeking another suitable location, and as it is particularly to the advantage of the Alberta Ladies' College of Red Deer as well as to the city of Red Deer, that the institution be continued in Red Deer, resolved that the Commissioners consult with the city Solicitor as to the feasibility of this proposal.

The meeting adjourned.

THE I.O.O.F. GARDEN PARTY. The garden party, given by the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire on the beautiful grounds of Edward Michener, M.P.P., on Thursday evening last, was a pronounced success. The weather was treacherous and dull, but in spite of this fact a large crowd was in attendance and there was a great demand for ice cream, strawberries and cake and other good things provided. The citizens band and a battalion band played together and discoursed a number of patriotic and other songs of the day.

Unfortunately early in the evening it began to rain and an end was put to the festivities on the lawn, but the crowd adjourned to the Army where a concert and dance was held, and where a pleasant evening was enjoyed.

Mrs. Lindsay Regent of the I.O.D.E., informs the News that the sum of $75.00 was realized by the garden party toward the Battalion band instrument fund.

Donations received by the I.O.D.E. for the band are as follows:

Mr. Grant $1.00
Mr. Walton 5.00
C. A. Julian-Sharman's children Hammond, Broughton, J. and Mr. Bullock donated all eating in connection with the garden party.

Any person desirous of making a donation to the band will be glad to communicate with Mrs. W. Penland Lindsay, Regent of the I.O.D.E., or with Lieut. Col. Robinson.

It is a pleasure to thank Mr. Michener for his hospitality, and the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church for the use of their dishes and spoons for the evening.

The report of the meeting of the National Executive was read, and the President called attention to a letter from the National Sub-Executive, suggesting that provincial or territorial conferences be held before November, 1916, to consider some of the provincial, national, and international problems that are before the country now and will be after the war, concerning health, citizenship, conservation, immigration, etc.

Mr. E. Michener, M.P.P., was present, and on the invitation of the President, made a few sympathetic remarks.

CANADIANS NOT IN BIG DRIVE. Ottawa, Ont., July 1.—Canadian troops are not believed to be taking part in the big drive launched this morning. They hold the line considerably north of the point attacked and unless they were transferred within two days, are not in the big attack.

CITY TREASURER. A. T. Stephenson states that the amount of taxes collected up to Friday evening last of the 10 p.c. discount amounted to between $25,000 and $30,000. This is just about the amount collected last year, which is a splendid showing as it was the first time the collections would fall far short of this amount this year.

Military Notes

Rev. Devan, Presbyterian Minister at Rocky Mountain House has also donated the khaki with the Veterans Battalion.

Recent recruits to the 187th Battalion, J. J. R. Thompson, editor of the Three Hills Review, and G. R. Anderson, principal of Didsbury school.

Mr. W. J. Rapsey received word a few days ago that his nephew Lieut. Stanley Pringle, of Port Arthur, who was seriously wounded, had passed away from the effect of his wounds.

The latest information received from Billy Scott is that he will not lose his eye. Ted Harvey, brother of Scott, Major Harvey of the 15th was wounded by the same shell that wounded Billy Scott.

Fred Glover reported wounded in Monday's casualty list is believed to be a Coronation boy, who enlisted with the local detachment of the 31st Battalion. Another brother, Edgar, of kin resides at Tacoma, Wash.

Lt. Law has received word from his law partner, Lieut. Scott, that he is in hospital in France suffering from shrapnel wounds in knee and back. The Dr. will not give him any satisfaction, he says, as to whether he will be able to save his leg.

The Innisfail Province says—Mrs. George Scott received word by cable on Tuesday that her brother, Pte. Robert McAllister, was reported missing since the action of June 3rd to June 5th. Another brother, Edgar, was reported last week as wounded in the same action.

Pte. C. Goodman, a member of the original Fifth Battalion, hailing from Monitor, Alta., is listed among the returned veterans who landed in Quebec on Sunday from the Allan liner Grampian. Goodman, who lost a leg at Langemark in the spring of 1915 is believed to be the best of the party of eighty men recruited here immediately following the outbreak of war, to return to Canada.

Alderman Galbraith has heard from his son Philip who is in the Princess Pats, he writes:

"We happened to be there when things started so we had the full benefit of the Hun's artillery before they attacked. I never saw anything like it before, and I never want to see anything like it again. The amount of stuff they can put over in a small space and a short time is wonderful, and the damage is wonderful, too. We lost some good men but I came through without injury."

Ald. Johns has word from his brother, Mr. Tom Johns, who left Edmonton with the 66th, that he is in the trenches, after a short stay in England.

Mr. W. T. Coote received the sad word Monday that a younger brother George, had been killed in action on the 14th. He lived at Cwilyr and enlisted at Calgary with the 26th, going across to England in April. He was unmarried, his mother living at Oakville, Ont.

Captain Dr. Henry George received word a few days ago that his son Lieut. H. B. George had sailed on the 15th of June, for Canada. So far he has heard nothing more. He may be expected any day now the doctor thinks. Nothing has been heard, as yet, from Lieut. Carswell.

TAXES COLLECTED. City Treasurer, A. T. Stephenson states that the amount of taxes collected up to Friday evening last of the 10 p.c. discount amounted to between $25,000 and $30,000. ALBERTA GONE DRY

Red Deer Was Dry From Thursday Noon

The prohibitory liquor Act came into force on July 1st and not a drop of intoxicating liquor can now legally be purchased in the province as a beverage. The local supply of intoxicants ran out before Thursday noon and those who came to the city for a last hurra on Friday were sorely disappointed.

In Calgary, the Albertan says that city is as dry as the sands of Arabia. Dry as the bones in the valley described by the Prophet Ezekiel. Dry as the seventh proposition of Euclid. And there is no cloud in sight which might indicate a mitigation of the aridity, even as small as a man's hand. John Barleycorn is down and out, and there is not so much as a twitch left in the left little toe of the remains.

The coming into force of prohibition in Calgary, attended by considerable excitement but no particular disturbance. The most hated old soaks who have been in the habit of leaving their stomachs against the bars until closing time have realized that Alberta meant what she said when it voted the liquor traffic out of existence within its boundaries and that when the fateful hour struck on the last day of June that all was over.

In other parts of the province there is every indication that the people of Alberta will abide by the law and what that is enforced.

In Edmonton when the closing hour came there were more about the hotels than would generally be seen on a Friday night. But the crowds were not disorderly; they were noisy and thus the bar passed out—in a fashion not very dissimilar to scenes witnessed when it was a feature of factor in the life of Alberta.

Most of the hotels by this time had cleared their stocks, which were gradually being reduced for months back. But while some of the wholesale stores were in a similar position there were others who had more on hand than the proprietors were pleased to have with them; notwithstanding the fact that their patrons and others had been stocking up against the season of the "drought." One wholesale store determined to clear up quickly and conducted an auction sale, but apparently there was only one to follow the get-rid-quick method.

GERMANS DRAW TROOPS FROM ALL PARTS OF LINE

British Headquarters in France, June 29, via London.—Through raids and a continuous bombardment, the British this week have taken prisoners by whom they have identified every German battalion opposed to them. Some of the prisoners say that the British fire was so fierce that it has destroyed the German machine guns and that the Germans have been unable to bring up food to their front line for three days.

It is stated that the Germans have withdrawn from their Verdun front the eleventh Bavarian division and the Twenty-second Reserve Corps, and from their Champagne front the Tenth Corps, for the reinforcement of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg on the Russian front. It is said that it is probable also that three additional divisions were sent to Russia from the British front recently.

One report has it that the Eleventh Bavarian Division refused to attack Verdun again, whereupon an order was issued that every Tenth Corps should be sent to the King of Bavaria intervened and that Emperor William decided that the Eleventh division should go to the eastern front.

EDMONTON EXHIBITION

While the exhibits and competitions are important features of the Edmonton fair, July 10-15, there are many other things to be considered in providing for a successful fair. The entertainment side must be considered first of all. The Edmonton Exhibition represents to many people their annual holiday, and after they make the rounds of the exhibits according to their individual interests, they look for some amusement. This is where the programme before the grandstand comes in.

Everybody goes on the grandstand to watch the races, and between times to be entertained by the vaudeville performers. This year the programme will be especially interesting. To start with there will be Katherine Stinson, aviator. Then to come back to earth, or rather within close range of it, there will be seen the Robinson quartette of elephants who perform marvellous feats for such ponderous animals, and stunts never before seen in Edmonton.

The five casting Campbells appear in two separate acts of mid-air gymnastics. Talar is a performer whose talents follow an unusual bent. He performs of all things to do acrobatic stunts on the extreme tip of a pole, slender pole, which swings in the wind.

The Mangen Troupe are acrobats of a different order, and they have an entirely original and amusing programme of acrobatic features. Happy Harrison with her bucking mule "Dynamite," her giant baboon, and pit dogs, have an amusing act of their own which is very popular. The Helen Carlos Trio perform on roller skates, executing most intricate figures and dancing all the newest dances on skates. The World At Home shows will be found in the Midway.

The Exhibition Association has arranged a most desirable program of high class vaudeville, and entertainment of exhibition visitors.

LOCAL COUNCIL

A general meeting of the Local Council was held on Thursday, June 29, at the Council Chamber, and was attended by a large and representative body of women.

The President, Mrs. W. A. Moore, gave a short address on the methods and work of the National Council. This Council was no new thing, it had been organized for 23 years. It was not a suffrage association; in fact, one of the allied societies in Toronto was an Anti-Suffrage Association. The Council was a federation of women's societies, was broad in its scope, and carried on eighteen different departments of work, e.g., education, public health, pure literature, household economies, etc., and since the war, patriotic work. These departments were taken up by the Local Councils at their discretion and according to the needs of the locality.

The Local Councils afforded a means by which the opinions of the women could be easily and quickly obtained on important questions. Each Local Council had the same number of votes in the National Council: Red Deer would have as many votes as Toronto or Montreal. After the address the representation

With a record of having shot 141 grizzlies in seven years and of having bagged an elk whose head is considered the second best in Europe, Robert Graham, who has the name of being the best big game shot in America, signed on for active service Saturday with the 211th American Legion, recruiting for which is going on under Capt. Main in the old Merchants' Bank building on Eighth Avenue. Pte. Graham, who is the first real big game hunter to enlist in a Calgary regiment since the commencement of the war, has been ranching at Comdor, Alberta, but the "big game" fever got him at last, and he is out now to beat, if possible, his seven years' grizzly record in as many days, the "big game" in this case being Germans.

A book entitled "Big Game of America," by F. C. Selous, the noted hunter, carries Pte. Graham's photo on the front page, and no small portion of the contents of the book is given over to him. Graham hunted with Selous in the Rockies for two seasons, and in his time he was guide to some of the best-known sportsmen in the world. He also hunted big game in South Africa for three years, and the claim is advanced that there is not another big game hunter in the whole of North America, not even "Teddy" Roosevelt excepted, who can beat him with the rifle.

HELP ENFORCE THE NEW LIQUOR ACT

It was stated Friday that a large load of liquors was sent out of the city to a point in the country where it would be hardy during fair week. To such an extent was this done, it is claimed, that the supply in the city ran short and many who came in for a last week drop were sadly disappointed.

It is unfortunate if this is true because the License department at Edmonton is determined to carry out the new law and those caught with the goods or found treating others with liquor after the first will get themselves into serious trouble. The Act states emphatically that "Any occupant of any house, shop, room or other place in which sale, barter or traffic, having, keeping or giving liquor, or any matter, act or thing in contravention of any of the provisions of this Act, has taken place, shall be personally liable to the penalty and punishment prescribed by this Act," notwithstanding that such has been done by some other person without the knowledge of said occupant.

The first offence carries a fine of not less than $50 or from thirty days to two months imprisonment; the second a fine of from $200 to $500 or imprisonment from two months to four months; the third offence imprisonment from three to six months without the option of a fine; and no appeal can be taken against any conviction.

WHY NOT GIVE CANADIAN OFFICERS HIGH COMMANDS?

The Toronto News has asked the pertinent question, which has been widely quoted throughout Canada. Is there any reason that a Canadian officer should not have command of the Canadian forces at the front? Why should they not hold a section of the trenches under their own officers, just as ground is held by French and British and Belgians, and as ground will be held by Russians. The British regular army, to the eternal honor of the race, sleeps beneath the sod of glorious fields in France and Flanders. The British army of today was recruited from civil life, as was that of Canada. No one suggests that the Canadian officer is inferior to the British officer or that the soldiers from the Dominions are inferior to the troops of the British islands.

There is nothing more than a tradition behind the curious notion that all the high commands should be held by British officers. All the forces of the empire are British, but we have to speak of British, Canadians and Australians just as we now divide the population of North America between Canadians and Americans. It will be granted that on the sea Great Britain has a splendid tradition for alertness and efficiency. What is true of the admiralty is not true of the war office.

There is nothing in tradition, in the character of the officers or in the quality of the troops which suggests that all the high commands in the field should be reserved for strictly British officers. This is not said in any sense of grievance, but with the sole object of stating a condition which ought not to exist, in favor of which there is little to be said, and against which many formidable arguments could be offered. In the empire there should be equality of citizenship, equality of sacrifice and equality of opportunity.

SWAT THE FLY

To wage war with the adult fly is to go into a ceaseless battle that can never be decisive in man's favor. The flies form such a numerous host that it is impossible to kill them all in a single season and a very few survivors are sufficient to propagate an equally numerous host the season following.

The only way to exterminate the fly is to attack it in the larval or maggot form. Flies lay their eggs in manure or garbage; ten days from the time of hatching the maggots emerge as winged insects, fully equipped for distributing disease-breeding bacteria. But a town with clean backyards and clean stable premises would be a flyless town, for it would have abolished the flies' breeding grounds. The plan of campaign against these annoying and dangerous pests is this plain: we must clean up not once or twice a year, but all the time. Town by town should require that all owners of stables keep manure in a fly-tight covered box and to have it removed at least twice a week. A similar law should apply to the disposal of garbage. Persons with dirty backyards should be prosecuted. Privies should be abolished wherever possible and, where allowed, should be kept continually disinfected and be cleaned twice weekly. The piling of refuse in disgusting and unsightly "dumps" should never be permitted. If the town cannot afford an incinerator, the refuse should be buried.

A PROPHETIC UTTERANCE

The Winnipeg Free Press, in chiding the French-Canadians of Quebec for declining to help the Empire with troops in her hour of need, says: "The Canada of the future will be ruled by the men who fought to save her—not by the men who stayed at home in the sulks."

Those who claim they have no right to fight in this war the young man who claims he is needed at home the stalwart who does not see any fun in risking his life for his country may stop and ponder for a moment when he is informed that the call for men at the front is so urgent that a relative of the king cannot even be spared from the fighting line to take the important position of Governor-General of this great Dominion of ours.

The Rank and File

What is the want that trumpet sound is echoing far and wide? 'Tis men to fill the gaping ranks. And stem the German tide. List not to those who stay at home. And trust on borrowed style. But be a man and do your bit. Fill up the rank and file.

Who faced the Cuiraissiers' wild charge On Waterloo's famed field, And, like a rock that breasts the waves, Refused to break or yield? 'Twas a master mind that battle planned Whom the foe could not beguile, Yet the day was won by grit and sand, Won by the "rank and file."

Remember, 'tis the rank and file Who bear the battle's brunt, Then take your place with steadfast air. Step right up to the front. The man who well his duty does Will soon rise from the ranks, And perhaps with honors on his breast. Receive his Sovereign's thanks. —Henry A. Ashmead

GIVES UNCLE SAM A LITTLE ADVICE

New York, June 28.—Lieutenant-Colonel David Hardie, a member of the Australian contingent, which has been fighting on the Gallipoli Peninsula and in France, arrived here Tuesday on the steamer Caladonia, on a furlough and bound for home. Col Hardie said the general feeling among the Allies is one of gratitude toward the United States for the assistance this country has given in supplies and moral support. Regarding Mexico, he said the sentiment in England was that this country should now go in and settle the disturbed republic.

DUNLOP TRACTION TREAD

PROCLAMATION
"Take Notice: New Yorkers have been Captured—by the 'Traction'!"

DUNLOP TIRES SOLD HERE "TRACTION TREAD" "SPECIAL"

In New York City alone nine men are employed selling Canada-Made Dunlop Traction Tread Tires.

Think of it—in a critical city like New York, where probably the most fastidious motor owners in the world assemble, nine men, as noted before, are kept busy doing nothing else but selling a tire made in Canada—and selling it at a higher price than the American has to pay for American-made tires.

And yet this Traction Tread Tire, which has "caught on" in New York City, and other parts of the United States, is identically the same tire which we have been offering to Canadians since 1911.

It is Undoubtedly the World's Greatest Anti-Skid.
Also makers of Dunlop "Special."

IF YOU KNEW

If you knew that there was to be a terrific hailstorm right in your very section—what would you do? What COULD you do?

You can't cover your crops—neither can you shield them from the "cobblestones of the sky."

SO—
Even if you knew there was to be a hailstorm, a ruinous, raging storm, one that was bound to destroy your entire source of income, you couldn't do a thing to prevent it. No power on earth could save your property and you know it. Consequently, what's to be done? You can't afford to run your business on a "my-crops-may-be-ruined-any-day" basis, can you? You don't want to feel that the harvest of months of hard work may be swept away in a few moments, do you? Of course not.

You may argue that the storm MAY not come. Quite true, it may not, for a day, or a week, or two. But when it does, then what?

There's Only One Safe Answer Insure Your Crops

If you can't prevent hailstorms, you can protect yourself against loss caused by them. And the best protection you can possibly secure is an insurance policy in one of the companies represented by the J. Malcolm Co. Ltd.

Let the Co. assume all the risk. They can afford it. You cannot. The Companies have millions of dollars of assets. You haven't. We will cheerfully guarantee you against all loss by hailstorm, and do it for a comparatively small amount per year.

Now that you know how to protect yourself against loss by hailstorms, what are you going to do? Are you going to put it off. Are you going to wait and wait for the BIG STORM that will completely ruin you? Are you going to undergo the suffering and worry that comes with such a big catastrophe?

Save yourself all this. Insure your crops. Protect your business and family. We'll gladly tell you how in detail, for that's our business, has been for years and we're proud of the record of our companies for paying losses.

Call when in town and get our terms, etc., and drop us a card and our representative will call on you. We are at your service.

REMEMBER: Foresight is the mother of wisdom. Don't delay.

GERMANY'S FRIEND

C. Huntington Jacobs, the Harvard senior whose fiery sonnet, "Gott Mit Uns," influenced Professor Kuno Meyer to write a letter to President Lowell of Harvard, berating the university authorities for sanctioning the award of a prize for such an unsentimental poem, has written another poetical attack on Germany. Jacobs' poem decries the alliance of Germany with Turkey, and is entitled "The Chant of Love." It is published in The Harvard Illustrated, and is a paraphrase to the English version of "Gott Strafe England." It follows:

Dane and Bulgar they matter not;
A smile for a smile, and a plot for a plot;
We love them not, they love us not;
We hold stern power their heads above,
We have but one and only love,
We hate as one, we love as one,
We have one friend and one alone--
Turkey!

He is known full well, he is known full well;
He rules the Land of the Crimson Flood.

Rich in madness, in craft of hell,
Cut off by torrents of Christian blood,
Come let us greet him hand to hand,
An oath to offer sublimely grand,
An oath which conscience shall never shake,
An oath for our sons and their sons to take.

Come hear the word, repeat the word,
Through Kultur's citadels make it heard;
We will never repeat our love,
We have all but a single love;
We hate as one, we love as one,
We have one friend and one alone--
Turkey!

Take ye the robe of our God in pay,
With Kultur from Krupp your ramparts lay;
Trample their towns to a Belgian slough;

Ye are keen for the work, and we'll show you how;
Dane and Bulgar they matter not;
A smile for a smile, and a plot for a plot;
We have fettered their arms with quill and steel,
And the scars of our lash are slow to heal,
But you will we love with a kindred love;

We will never repeat our love!
Love in battle and butchery,
Love of the cleaver and love of the crown,
Love of a nation to hell brought down!
We hate as one, we love as one,
We have one friend and one alone--
Turkey!

GROW POTATOES NOW

Patriotic Duty of Farmers--Best Kinds For Ontario

Canada is not in danger of a food shortage, such as menaces Germany and gives incentive to her farmers. But Canadians who grow potatoes are likely to find a large and profitable market, and besides they will render a national service. Every dollar of material wealth added to the resources of the nation at this time is a factor in winning the war. The Ontario Agricultural Department urges care in putting in of the crop, and offers personal advice to growers based upon experiments conducted at the college in recent years. There are far too many varieties of potatoes grown on the farms of Ontario. This is one of the greatest weaknesses in the potato industry of the province. Varieties prominent in the experiments at the college and in the co-operative experiments throughout Ontario are the Empire State, the Davies' Warrior, the Rural New Yorker No. 2, the Green Mountain and the Carman No. 1 of the late, and the Extra Early Ereka, the Early Ohio and the Stray Beauty or Bliss Triumph of the early varieties. Use smooth, well shaped, sound tubers of good size and of the best varieties. Throw the freshly cut potato sets into finely ground lime plaster and plant them immediately after being cut, says the Department. Drop the pieces separately from 12 to 15 inches apart in the rows and have the rows 25 or 30 inches apart. The potato sets can be planted from three to five inches deep, depending upon the character and the condition of the soil. Level cultivation frequently gives the best results on a light soil, and ridged cultivation on soil of a heavier nature. It is often an advantage to expose whole seed potatoes in a subterranean light in a warm room about three weeks before planting, thus producing short, thick, green sprouts.

McCauleys of Montreal

Mr. C. J. McCauley, of Montreal, has good reason to be proud of his three sons, who went overseas with the first of the units of the Fifth Royal Highlanders organized--the 1st Battalion--the fighting unit, the memory of which will never die in the mind of Montreal and the Empire. One son, Major D. R. McCauley, won the Distinguished Service Order for bravery. He is, unfortunately, a prisoner of war in Germany at Hanover, and was seriously wounded before surrender. Another son has been wounded. He left as a Lieutenant and adjutant of the 13th Battalion, and became Major G. McCauley, second in command of his regiment. The other son, Captain Clarence N. McCauley, left a Lieutenant and won promotion on the battlefield.

UNIVERSITY'S HEROES

Lieut. the Hon. William Alastair Damer Parrell, of Arts '17, and Science '18, of McGill, who served with the Grenadier Guards in France, has been awarded the Military Cross for distinguished conduct in making a raid on the trenches of the enemy. Lieut. Parrell came to McGill from Rugby in the fall of 1913, and entered the class of Arts '17, at the commencement of the session of 1914-15 he became a member of the class of Science '18. On the death in action of his brother, Sir Henry Bligh Porteus Parrell, he returned to England and took out a commission in his brother's regiment. He was born in 1894, and is the son of the late fourth Baron Congleton, major-general in the army, who served in the Crimea after the fall of Sebastopol, and during the campaign against the Zulus. Lieut. Parrell was the fourth McGill man to be awarded the Military Cross, the other three recipients being Capt. Human Lightstone, of Med. '10; Capt. D. M. Matheson, of Science '07; and Lieut. Evan B. Hugh-Jones, of Science '13.

This steel helmet, worn by German sharpshooters on sniping duty, is formed of metal bent so that it will deflect bullets. It is cut away on the right side to allow sighting the rifle.

WON BRIDE IN FRANCE

Canadian D.C.M. Learns to Lisp New Language

The publication "Canada" narrates the following interesting love story: Learning to lisp his first few French words guided by the laughing lips and admonished by the threatening finger of a dark-eyed demoiselle of Lille, and later expounding more than the language of her country, was the experience of a young Canadian hero, Private Peter William Houghton, D.C.M. He first met his teacher at Lens, where she was a refugee, and he married her at St. Helens, Lancashire. The bride was Mlle. Jeanne Elise Torres, of Bailleul, France, from which town she and her parents were driven by the invading Huns, an aunt of hers having been killed by a Hun bomb, and an uncle being now a prisoner in Germany. The bridegroom came over from Canada with the 1st Battalion of the first contingent. Born at St. Helens, he was taken while very young to Canada, and being romantically inclined, it was to St. Helens that he returned to be married. The D.C.M. was on short leave and on his return to the front left his bride in St. Helens, where she sat herself industriously to learn English.

STRANGE GOD OF HUNS

Vastly Different is Anglo-Saxon Conception, Says Writer

Well might the allies despair of winning or justifying their cause if they were to accept the German Emperor's belief that God was always on his side, says The New York Sun. To people whose religious feeling is not militant and whose conception of God is impersonal the Emperor's conviction, so constantly intimated, that the Almighty is with him and against his enemies comes as a shock. It seems insincere and wanting in reverence. But it is nothing of the kind, as Mr. Sydney Brooks points out. To the English and the Germans God is a different being. To the English "He is the Lord God Almighty, a terrible overshadowing being, feared and revered, and kept in our private sanctuaries, to be appealed to in moments of profound grief or emotion, but certainly no companion to our ordinary thoughts or actions. But, to quote Mr. Brooks, "the Heber Herr Gott of the Germans is above all things a very human comrade, a partaker of the common round to be recognized in whatever is loved or enjoyed. He is also an intensely German deity, peculiarly associated with the German soul, and supreme war lord and guardian of the German hosts. The German heart responds to Him even when the German intellect refuses to relax its scepticism and refuses still more sternly to be caged within the four walls of any doctrine."

Every Shovelful Counts

There's satisfaction in having a Sunshine Furnace. You know that the coal you put in the big, wide door will be turned into heat for the house.

What makes the Sunshine a Coal Saver? Two Things:

- 1 THE STUDY—the science you might call it—that has gone into its design. The air passages are wide, the radiating surface is large. The heat from the flames is spent before the fumes get to the chimney. The fire-put, which is the main source of heat, is always kept clear of ashes.
- 2 THE WORKMANSHIP that produces a permanent "heat-tight" job. The doors and dampers fit closely. When you shut off the Sunshine Furnace, the heat is held without burning up coal.

Sir Roger Casement Sentenced to Death FOUND GUILTY OF HIGH TREASON

London, June 29.—Sir Roger Casement was sentenced to death today after being found guilty of high treason. An appeal will be taken by Sir Roger.

The ending of the historic trial came shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon when the jury, which had been out less than an hour, brought in its verdict against the Irish knight.

The jury's session of the court was given over to arguments of counsel and the charge to the jury. Sir Roger's counsel, Alexander Sullivan, who collapsed in court yesterday, was unable to appear to-day and his argument was taken up by Artemus Jones, assistant counsel for the defence. The attorney-general, Sir Frederick Smith, summed up the case for the prosecution, after which the Lord Chief Justice delivered his charge.

BAILEY DISCHARGED

After Sir Roger had been sentenced Daniel Bailey, the private soldier who had been held as his accomplice, was placed in the dock. The chief justice directed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty and Bailey was discharged.

London, June 29.—Viscount Reading, lord chief justice of England, with the black cloth, by tradition called a cap, spread over his head, and his two associates in scarlet gowns, likewise black capped, pronounced the sentence of death for high treason on the Irishman, Sir Roger Casement, shortly before 5 o'clock this afternoon, half an hour after the foreman of the jury in a shaking voice gave the verdict of guilty.

Sir Roger addressed the court, reading his final statement with the explanation that he wished it might reach a much larger audience than the one before him and particularly the people of America from whom had come many messages of sympathy to him and whose own struggle for liberty, he said, always had been an inspiration to Irishmen.

The prisoner shook hands with a friend who was sitting below the dock while the usher placed the black cloth over the heads of the judges. The voice of the chief justice was firm but his face was pale as he spoke the few words in pronouncing the sentence. He began: "Roger David Casement, you have been found guilty by a jury of your peers of high treason, the highest crime known to the law," and concluded by sentencing him to "be hanged by the neck until you are dead."

ROUMANIA GETTING READY TO ASSIST ALLIES, IS REPORT

London, June 29.—Interest in the expected grand offensive of the allies was shifted temporarily, yesterday, to the situation in the Balkans with the revival of reports that Roumania is preparing to join the allies.

A heavily censored Bucharest dispatch telegraphed via Amsterdam reported that Bulgaria had closed her frontier against Roumania and the Bulgarian troops were reported to be concentrating along the Roumanian frontier.

The Austrians are clamoring for the abandonment of the Verdun offensive by the Germans and the sending of more troops to the Austrian front.

BULGARIA UNEASY

Berlin, via London, June 29.—Sofia reports indicate that Bulgaria is uneasy owing to the possible consequence of Greece's capitulation to the entente demands. It is said that official Bulgarian circles declare Bulgaria would be forced to regard Greece, under the dictatorship of Venizelos and obeying entente orders, as an open enemy.

Sofia feels that Greece's capitulation has caused the whole Balkan problem to enter a new stage. The effects of the changed situation are already making themselves felt in Sofia and Bucharest. While recognizing Greece's good will to further maintain neutrality, Sofia regards Greece's future attitude as most difficult.

Denmark-Kee

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday morning at home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Freeborn Kee, 3rd Street N., when their only daughter, Mary Luella, was married to Mr. William Denmark.

The bride looked exceedingly pretty wearing a suit of navy and green striped satin and Panama hat, carrying a shower bouquet of white roses. The bride was given away by her father. The bridesmaid, Miss Eva Cox, wore a charming flowered marquisette and carried a bouquet of pink roses, while Mr. John Fulton acted as best man to the groom. The groom presented the bride with a gold wrist watch and the bridesmaid with a Japanese handbag and the best man with a silver cigarette case. Rev. W. M. Ryan performed the ceremony. Many beautiful gifts testified to the esteem in which the bride is held.

After a daintily served wedding breakfast at the bride's home the happy couple left for the coast. On their return they will reside in Red Deer.

Miss Eva Cox entertained a few friends to a miscellaneous shower for Miss Kee on Monday evening.

Heavy Artillery Fire Raging on British Front

British Use Gas Successfully
Foe Retaliates by Bombarding the Canadians

British Headquarters in France, June 29.—Unusually heavy artillery firing with numbers of trench raids have continued all along the British front during the last 24 hours. Here and there were intense outbursts from artillery concentrations on both sides.

BOMBARD 'CANUCKS'

The British used both gas and smoke to cover their trench raids. In the Ypres salient were found the bodies of Germans killed by gas in their trench. The Germans retaliated by bombarding the Canadian positions at Observatory ridge and Sorrel hill.

The ease with which raiding parties, under cover of bombardment, can rush a trench of the enemy, inflict losses and bring back prisoners is such that it has become a systematic nightly business along the whole front in the last few days on a scale not attempted before.

AUTOINTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

The Dangerous Condition Which Produces Many Well Known Diseases.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THIS TROUBLE

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" — The Wonderful Fruit Medicine — will Protect You

Auto-intoxication means self-poisoning, caused by continuous or partial constipation, or insufficient action of the bowels.

Instead of the refuse matter passing daily from the body, it is absorbed by the blood. As a result, the Kidneys and Skin are overworked, in their efforts to rid the blood of this poisoning.

Poisoning of the blood in this way often causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Disturbed Stomach. It may produce Headaches and Sleeplessness. It may irritate the Kidneys and bring on Pain in the Back, Rheumatism, Gout, and Rheumatic Pains. It is the chief cause of Eczema — and keeps the whole system unhealthy by the constant absorption into the blood of this refuse matter. "Fruit-a-lives" will always cure Auto-intoxication or self-poisoning — as "Fruit-a-lives" acts gently on bowels, kidneys and skin, strengthens the bowels and tones up the nervous system. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 50c. Mr. A. Clutterbuck, Red Deer, Alberta.

Dear Sir:—If there are any hard coal users in Red Deer who can afford to lay in their coal during the summer, I would strongly advise you to keep after them until they place their order. Our mines have only enough men now to work half time, and we do not expect the situation to improve any between now and the winter. If we have any cold weather at all next winter, coal is going to be very scarce, and any of your customers who can afford it should protect themselves during the next two or three months.

Yours truly,

Reserve Militia

The second public meeting, to consider the organization of a Red Deer Company of the Reserve Militia, was held in the Armory on Wednesday evening, the 28th ult.

The meeting, which comprised nearly fifty of Red Deer's citizens, was presided over by Mr. E. Mich-ener, M.P.P., and many of those present expressed themselves in terms of keen enthusiasm for the movement.

Mr. J. E. Cunningham, on behalf of the Committee submitted correspondence between the Committee and the Military Authorities.

The following resolutions were discussed and carried—
 (1) "Resolved, that it is desired to organize forthwith a Company of the Reserve Militia, to be known as the Red Deer Company, Reserve Militia, and that proper steps to that end be taken at once."

(2) "Resolved that in the opinion of this meeting Mr. A. T. Stephenson is the proper person to organize and command the Red Deer Company, Reserve Militia, and that the proper Military Authorities be requested to appoint him for that purpose."

The Acting Secretary S. Pameley, took the names of forty of those present who signified their intention of joining the company.

When the appointment of Mr.
 Stephenson has been confirmed by the Military Authorities, another meeting will be called for the purpose of organizing the unit, and for the enrollment of members.

As has already been stated by Lt.-
 Col. Dennis, to a Red Deer audience, the formation of a Reserve Militia affords an opportunity to every man, within reach of a training course, and who is not already engaged in an Active Military Service, to qualify himself for Home Defence should it be necessary.

Letters from the Front

Pte. Gordon Stone of the 89th Battalion, writing his parents from England says—

Dear Mother and Father,—"Please excuse the writing because I am laying down just now, you see we just came in of an inspection and I am feeling a little tired. There is not much to tell you except that we are sure getting it drilled into us and that we are feeling fine. We have been in England exactly a week and have had three inspections during that time. They looked yesterday we had to drill all day during a heavy rain. Some class to us. Yesterday morning we had a route march about eight miles with packs, had an hour off for dinner, then had battalion drill all afternoon.

This morning we had to get up at five, breakfast at five-thirty, then we had to turn out for parade at six-thirty with packs on. If we turn out not looking just right, they have a crime agent you. We had to march about six miles, to some plain where General Alpers was to inspect us. He is the Commander of all Canadian troops in France.

There were about eight or nine thousand of us on parade. When the general inspected our Battalion, he said that we were a fine clean looking lot of men. They picked B Co.
 out of the 89th, that is our Company, to go on in front of all the troops and show them how we could drill, and we showed them too. We are said to be the best Company in our Battalion, so we had to live up to it.

The Colonel was telling us to-day that the 89th might not split up, but we see they picked out five hundred of us the other day. I was among them, to go into training right away. So I expect to be at the front inside of six weeks.

Well, I guess I have told you all there is to tell, so I will ring off.

London Papers Are Rather Reserved
 In Their Comment

London, July 2.—The London papers in their editorials deal with the situation on the British front in somewhat reserved fashion, some of them pointing out that it is not yet known whether this is really the long awaited "big push," or only another feint in greater force than any of the previous movements.

The Graphic remarks "Our bombardment is still being maintained along the front, the enemy does not know whether at any moment we may rush another stretch of line.
 The necessity of sending adequate reinforcements to cope with the situation may necessitate the Germans abandoning the enterprise against Verdun."

The Express says:
 "The fact that Germany has lost the offensive does not mean that she is not still a formidable foe. We cannot tell what her temper may be under the shadow of defeat. Whether she will fight to the last ditch, or seek to save the utmost from the wreckage. It is enough to know that the great current of the war has changed, and that humanly speaking, there is no power visible that can turn the current back into the old channels. The end may still be far off; we cannot tell. But to-day we know that victory is assured."

The Daily Telegraph compares the offensive to the beginning of a great musical composition, saying:
 "With so good an overture we may expect the main body of the work equally to flatter our hopes."

The Morning Post says:
 "The task confronting the allies is long, bloody and difficult. The people at home must steel themselves to the painful fact that the offensive must involve heavy losses. The end is not in sight, but the thing must be fought to a finish and we shall see to it that the sacrifices are not made in vain."
